Sevenoaks Counselling - Self Employed Therapists

Sevenoaks Counselling is a counselling charity based in Sevenoaks Kent. We were established in 1983 and have been operating in Sevenoaks for over 40 years, providing a trusted, professional, affordable service to Sevenoaks and the surrounding area including Kent, Medway, South London and parts of Sussex and Surrey.

Due to high demand for our services, we are looking for self-employed therapists to grow our therapy team, in particular therapists with expertise working with couples.

We are looking for experienced couples' therapists BACP/ACC/ UKCP members or equivalent, accredited or working towards accreditation status. Applications are encouraged from counsellors, psychotherapists, counselling psychologists and trainee couples' therapists seeking to meet their training hours.

- Self-employed contract, 3 to 15 client sessions per week, blend of face-to-face at our premises in Sevenoaks and phone/online. Face-to-face work will include one evening.
- Qualified couples' therapists will be paid between £24.50 to £28 per client counselling session, depending upon experience, plus group supervision is offered once a month. Alternatively, a contribution towards supervision will be considered, depending on number of clients seen per month at Sevenoaks Counselling.

Sevenoaks Counselling is a Christian organisation and as such it is a requirement that therapists are sympathetic to the Christian ethos of the service.
